ceaselessly moves its attention from fictional biography to the roman noir from the

this book contains a range of original studies on one of the major challenges in africa today the controversial role of youth in politics conflict and rebellious movements the issue is not only the drafting of child soldiers into insurgent armies or predatory militias as in somalia sierra leone or congo but more generally that of the problematic insertion of large numbers of young people in the socio economic and political order of post colonial africa even educated youths are being confronted with a lack of opportunities blocked social mobility and despair about the future many of the political antagonisms and conflicts in which youths are involved do not only exist at the discursive level but are being produced by current demographic and socio political contradictions in africa african youth while forming a numerical majority largely feel excluded from power are socio economically marginalized and thwarted in their ambitions they have little access to representative positions or political power which is making for a politically volatile situation in many african countries the authors address several case studies from across africa the mungiki movement in kenya youth agency in southern sudan in times of war the challenges of re-integrating youthful ex-combatants in sierra leone and street children in togo a common aim is to try to explain why patterns of generational conflict and violent response among younger age groups in africa are showing such a remarkably uneven spread across the continent and to advance the comparative study of youth and generational conflict beyond mere description of the varied empirical cases migrants in irregular situations are confronted with dangerous circumstances during their journeys toward western countries and upon their arrival in those countries of destination while continuously disputed by social and political forces migrants and their children continue to live an isolated life in our communities facing discrimination abuse and labour exploitation courts and tribunals in our societies try to make sense of this human mobility by sorting out basic human rights and economic privileges in a way which is too revolutionary for conservative parties and too slow and unfair for human rights activists this book focuses on the issue of human rights protection of migrants in irregular situations the concept of protection does not refer to a humanitarian definition of aid and intervention on behalf of the victims of migration protection here means official recognition by the state and by the law of migrants in irregular situations it also means recognition of the human rights of migrants recognition of the migrant as a political actor and from there political inclusion and politicization of the migrant discussions in international forums are dominated by westphalian visions of the world and no change can be envisioned in the near future with this kind of discourse in a highly individualized and fragmented world an undocumented migrants destiny is instead decided on a case by case basis in our national courts and today the most effort is put into advocacy and legal representation how successful the rights claims are today what the political context of their development is and how social and political actors position themselves in regards to irregular migration are points discussed in this book foreword prof francois crpeau mcgill university canada
